

EXHIBIT D

What I claim as my invention is identifiable as the Allowance Card, a card which is used in a similar manner as a credit card, however, monetarily backed by a parent, guardian, custodian etc., who can authorize US dollar amounts and transaction amounts to be transferred to the Allowance Card, and the parent, guardian, custodian, would have full financial control over the holder of the Allowance Card, that they have requested from their primary credit card company, always stipulated in writing or a recorded message.
